

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

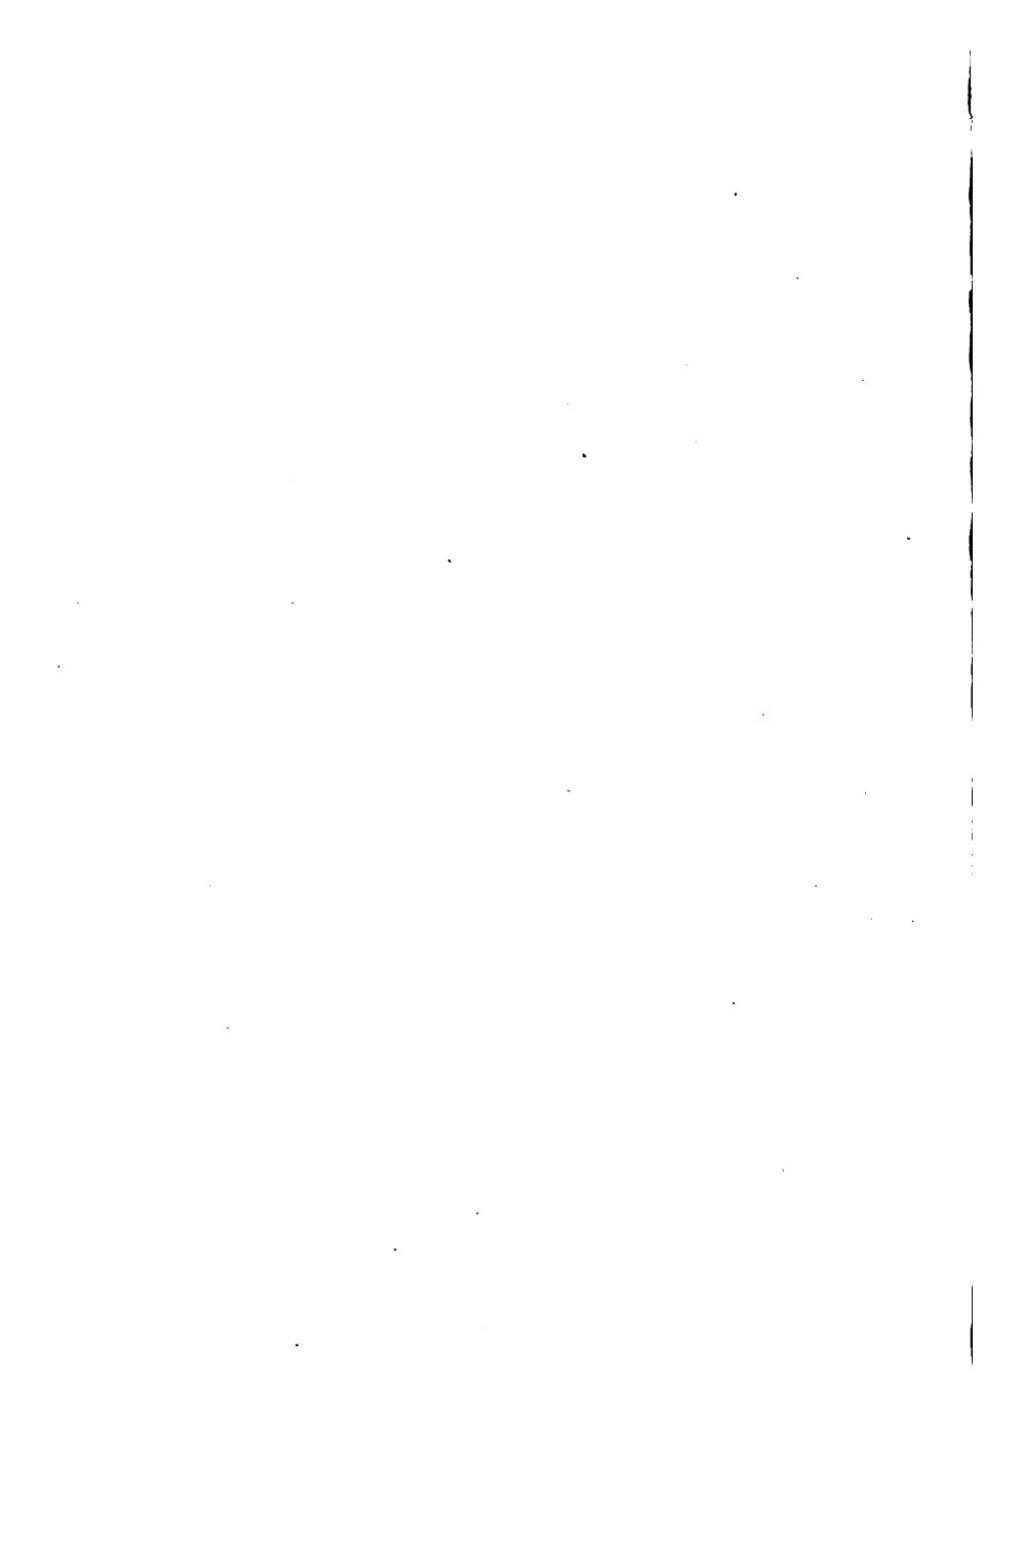

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. A NOTE TO THE TEACHER

A CHILD'S book is not the place for a pedagogical treatise on the teaching of reading. The author would only say that this primer may be used by the followers of any method.

The book is constructed on a phonic principle, which makes it particularly easy for that method or for the alphabetic method. At first only one sound of any letter is used, and sufficient drill is given for the pupil to learn that sound before any other is taken. After the first twelve letters only one new thing is taught at a time: this makes the grading of the book uniform and easy.

The word lists are intended to be read, not to be memorized for spelling lessons—at least not when they are first reached, though they will serve that purpose excellently well as a review.

Teachers who prefer the word method or the sentence method will find this book, from the interest and action in its stories, equally well adapted to their wants. Such teachers may omit the first pages, and begin with the reading lesson on page 14.

Whatever method a teacher may begin with, phonics must be taught sooner or later, if the child is to become an independent reader. Therefore, whatever method the teacher uses, a primer presenting words spelled regularly, and easily graded, will be easier to teach than a book that makes no pretension to order or system in introducing new words.

The alphabet of animals, beginning on page 113, is designed to teach the names of the letters; and the song on page 127, to teach their order in the alphabet. These pages give also a review of the whole book; they contain no new sounds.

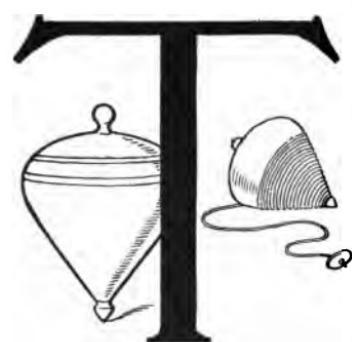

The method of teaching that the author would recommend is the phonic. A manual on the teaching of phonics, with special application to THE HOWELL PRIMER, is in preparation.

A SUMMER MORNING

It is a summer morning.
The sun is up.
And Ben's hen is up.
She has left her nest.
She is under the trees.
She is in the green grass.
She is after bugs and grubs.
She gets them in the grass.
The hen gets grit
with the bugs and grubs.

But grit is not bad for hens.
The green grass is damp under the trees.
The hen tramps in the grass.
She sings a song.

“Ca—a, Ca—a, Ca—a,”
trills the hen.
The hen is a bad singer.
The sun grins at her song.
But he can not hinder the hen.
She still sings her song.
“Ca—a, Ca—a, Ca—a,”
trills the hen.
Grin on, Mister Sun.
It will not bother the hen.

Ben will get up from bed.
He will feed his hen.
Then she will run back,
and sit on her nest.

IN SWIMMING

The man has the lads in swimming.

It is a warm summer morning.

And the water is warm.

Will is in the water.

And the man is in the water.

The man is taller than Will.

He is helping Will swim.

“Kick, Will, kick.”

Will kicks and kicks.

But he can not swim,
unless the man helps him.
Will hits the water with his fists.

The man tells Will he must not hit with his fists.

He must hit with his hands.

Walter can not swim.

He is standing in the water.
But the water is not deep.
He sees the man helping Will.

He sees Will kicking.
The man will let Walter swim.
Then Will can see Walter kick.

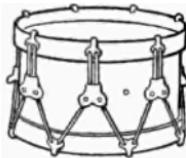

Wag is in the water.
All dogs can swim.
But not all men can swim.
Wag is swimming for the land.
Walter is calling him.

Gus is on the warm sand.
He has his ball with him.
He hid his ball in the sand.
Gus tells Buff: "Seek, Buff.
Seek for the ball."
Buff is seeking the ball.

This is the man's pond.
He lets Will and Walter and Gus swim in the warm water.
This is the pond for fun.

Will has a flag.
Sam has a pistol.
Ben has a gun.
Nat has a cannon.
It is in his wagon.

Gus will drill them.
Gus tells them: "Halt!

DON AND THE CRAB

Has Don got the crab?
Or has the crab got Don?
A crab is a shell fish.
It swims in salt water.
But a crab has legs.
It can run on the ground.
This crab crept up out of the salt water.
It ran on the ground.
It hid in the warm sand.

But Don saw the crab crawling out of the water.
Don bit at the crab.
But he did not get the crab.
The crab bit Don.

Nat is calling out:
“Don, Don, drop that crab!”
But Don can not drop the crab.
And the crab will not drop from Don.
Don runs and runs.
The crab flops and flops.

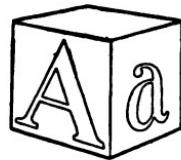

Nat shouts: “Stop, Don!
Let me kill the crab.”
He calls out loud.
If Don will stop running,
Nat will crack the crab’s shell with a stick.
Then it will drop from Don.

WILL'S FINGER

Will is bawling loud.
He has cut his finger.
Will cut his block.
And he let his hand slip.
It has bled on a block.
Stop bawling, Will.
That will not mend the finger.
Will must not cut his blocks.
It is bad for the blocks.
And it is bad for fingers.

SPINNING TOPS

Carl is spinning his red top.
He spins it with a string.
He grasps it with his hand.
Then he winds the string on.
Then he swings his arm.
And then the top spins.
The string must not be slack.
If the string is slack,
it will slip.
Then the top will not spin.

Carl's string is not slack.
His hand is strong.
He winds the string on well.
His string will not slip.
His top will hum, hum, hum.

Will can not spin his top.
His left hand is in a sling.
He can not wind the string.
Will cut a block.
He let his hand slip.
And he cut his finger.
His finger is better.
But it is not well.
He must let his hand rest.

Carl is bigger than Will.
He can spin a top better.
But if Carl will wind
the string on for him,
then Will can spin his top.

Run, Jess, run.
Jocko has got the jam.
He found it on the shelf.
He is eating out of the jar.
Jocko has bad habits.
He jumps up on the shelf.
He steals jam and cream.
He found eggs in a round dish.
Jocko has a small jacket.

He let cream spill on the rug.
Jocko has found a jar of jam.
He has just begun eating it.

Run, Jess, and get Jocko.
He must be shut up.
Jess will beat Jocko,
if she can get him.
But Jocko sees Jess.
He will not let her get him,

PICKING UP CHIPS

Joe must pick up chips.
Frank is Joe's chum.
Joe begs his chum :
“ Won’t you help me pick up the chips, Frank ? ”
But Frank had rather get Jocko out of his kennel.
So he asks Joe :
“ Will you get Jocko out if I help you ? ”

But Joe tells Frank:
“I can’t get Jocko out.
He is shut up in his kennel.
Jess found him eating jam,
and drinking cream.
But I will let you see Jocko.”
So Frank tells Joe:
“Well, I will help you.”

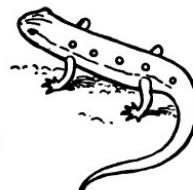

Frank picks up a small chip.
Then he sees the big basket.
And he asks Joe:
“Must we fill the basket?
It is such a big basket.”
Joe tells him:
“No, we won’t pick up much.
Just pick up the big chips.
Then we will get lunch.”
“Yes,” begs Frank,
“and let’s get Jocko’s lunch.
Let’s see him eat.”

FEEDING JOCKO

Joe is showing Frank Jocko.
Jocko is in his new kennel.
Joe has his lunch in a bowl.
Jocko grins, he is so glad.
He is showing his teeth.
Frank begs Joe:
“Let me throw the things in.”
So Joe holds the bowl.
And Frank throws the things in for Jocko.

MAX

Max has an ox and a cart.
The ox draws the cart.
Max is hauling logs.
He has been chopping trees.
His ax is stuck in a log.
Max has a box.
Ben asks Max for the box.
He wants the box
for his red hen.
She has six little chicks.

THE LITTLE CHICKS

Cluck, cluck ; cluck, cluck.

This is Cluck a Luck.

She has been sitting on her nest for three weeks.

Cluck a Luck left her nest this morning.

She will not go back.

She has six little chicks.

Ben will shut her in the box till the chicks grow strong.

VIXEN

“Val ! Val !” Max calls out.
Val comes, and Max tells him :
“I have something for you.”
“O, I see; it is a little pup.”
“No,” Max tells him,
“this is a little fox.
I call her Vixen.
She is not grown yet.
She is a little cub.”
“Is she for me?” asks Val.

SALEM FRATERNITY

“Yes, I will give you the fox, if your mother will let you keep her.”

“O, thank you, Max.
Mother will let me keep her.
She can live in our yard.”

But Max tells Val :

“You must not let the fox run about in the yard.
She will eat little chickens.”

“We have some boxes in our back yard,” Val tells him.

“We have a big one that Vixen can live in.”

“Well, shut her up in one of the big boxes.
I will fix it up for a kennel for Vixen.

But you must not let the chickens come near the fox.”

“Let me go. Let me go.”

Quit, Vixen, quit.

You must not eat that duck.

LIZZIE AND ZIP

This little girl is Lizzie.
Lizzie has a gray squirrel.
She calls the squirrel Zip.
The squirrel loves Lizzie.
For she is a kind little girl.
Lizzie has some nuts.
She shows Zip the nuts, and calls: "Come, Zip, come."
Zip comes running.
And Lizzie gives him the nuts.

LIZZIE AND VAL

Lizzie has come to see Val.
She has come to show her little squirrel to Val.

“Whose is it, Lizzie?” he asks.

“Is it your squirrel?”

“Yes. Do you love squirrels?
Do you want to hold him?

Zip will love you,
if you are kind to him.”

Then Val sees a duck coming.

“O, Lizzie,” he asks, “do you see that duck coming?

Vixen got her this morning.”

“Who is Vixen?” asks Lizzie.

“O, haven’t you seen Vixen?

She is a little cub fox.

Vixen is not grown yet.

I got her from Max.”

“Did Max give her to you?”

“Yes, and we have to keep her shut up in her kennel.

For foxes are fond of ducks.

Vixen will eat them,

if she can get hold of them.

This morning one of our ducks went to Vixen’s kennel.

She wanted some of Vixen’s dinner.

But Vixen did not want to give the duck her dinner.

Vixen wanted a duck
for her own dinner.
So she bit at the duck.
She got hold of a wing.

‘Quack! quack!’ went the duck.
I ran to Vixen’s kennel.
I saw the duck
flapping one of her wings.
The fox had the other wing.
I hit Vixen,
and she let the duck go.
But the fox got two quills.”

You can see the two quills of the duck in Val’s hat.
Lizzie asks Val to let her see the little fox.
“Well, come with me, Lizzie,”
Val tells her;
“And I will show you Vixen.”

ALICE SHOPPING

Alice is down town shopping.
She is going to have a birthday party.

“Have you any apples, Mr.
Smith?” asks Alice.

“O, yes, I have many kinds of apples,” says Mr. Smith.

“How much are these apples?”

“Thirty cents a peck,” he says.

“Please send me one peck.”

“Have you any candy,
Mr. Smith?” asks Harry.

“O, yes, how many pounds do you want?”

“How much is it a pound?”

“Fifteen cents a pound.”

“Please send us two pounds.
Alice is going to have a birthday party.”

“How many birthdays have you had, Alice?”

“I am six to-day,” says Alice.

“You are getting to be a big little girl,” says Mr. Smith.

“I will send you some nuts for a birthday present.”

“O, thank you, sir.”

Mr. Smith says, to tease Alice:

“Whose ugly puppy is this?”

Alice says: “That is Prince.

He is not an ugly puppy.
He is very pretty.
Prince is smart. He can speak.
Speak, Prince, speak."
"Bow! wow!" says Prince.
"I must give him something to eat for that," says Mr. Smith.
"Say 'Thank you,' Prince."
"Bow! wow!" says Prince.

"Please send these things.
Mother will pay you."
"Very well," says Mr. Smith.
"But carry this with you now."
He gives them two lolly pops.
"O, thank you, sir,"
Harry and Alice both say.
As the children start to go,
Mr. Smith says to Alice:
"I wish you a merry party and many happy birthdays."

GEORGE'S GOAT

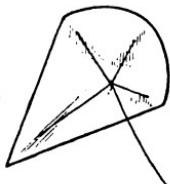

“ Ho ! Billy, ho ! ”
Billy is running away.
He is throwing out the wood.
“ Ho, Billy ! ” shouts George.
“ Stop, Billy ! ” shouts Hubert.
Billy is a large goat.
He has horns on his head.
But he is a gentle goat.
He will not butt George and Hubert with his head.

The lads are hauling wood.
It is not a heavy load.
They are in the big road.
They were going along well.
But Billy is not fond of dogs.
The goat will butt them,
 if they bark at him.
Prince saw Billy coming.
He ran out and began to bark at the goat.

“ Bow ! wow ! ” went Prince.
Billy shook his head,
 and he started for Prince.
Prince ran away yelping.
Billy did not get him.
But he threw the load of wood out of the cart.
George and Hubert must run and get the goat.
They must pick up the wood.

ALICE'S PARTY

Alice has invited two boys and two girls to her party.
Brother Harry makes five, and Alice makes six children.

Alice sits at the head of the table.

Harry is at the foot.

Lizzie and George are next to Alice.

Hubert sits beside Lizzie.

Kate sits beside George.
You have not seen her before.
Kate lives in New York City.
Alice lives in a village.
Kate is visiting Alice.

These children gave Alice some very pretty presents:
Harry gave her a knife.
Hubert gave her a red pencil.
Kate gave her a picture book.
Lizzie gave a jumping rope.
George gave a looking glass.

They have been playing games.
They have been looking at the picture book.
Now they are at the table.
Each has a slice of cake and a plate of ice cream.
They enjoy this supper.

A nice large cake is in the center of the table.

It has a candle for every one of Alice's birthdays.

The cake looks very fine.

After supper Alice will blow out the candles.

Her mother will take the candles off the cake.

Then each child will cut a large slice out of the cake.

The cake has a dime in it.

They will cut for the dime.

Each one hopes he will get it.

For they say that the one who gets the dime, will have good luck.

But Alice's mother tells them that every good child will have good luck.

ASKING RIDDLES

Mrs. Jones is Alice's mother.
She is asking riddles :
“As I was going to St. Ives,
I met a man with seven wives.
Each wife had seven sacks ;
Each sack had seven cats ;
Each cat had seven kits :
Kits, cats, sacks, and wives,
How many were there
Going to St. Ives ?”

“ I have heard that before,” says Kate.

“ There was just one going to Saint Ives.”

“ Yes, Kate, that is right.
Now, what is this ?

White sheep, white sheep,

On a blue hill,

When the wind stops,

You all stand still.

When the wind blows,

You walk away slow.

White sheep, white sheep,

Where do you go ?”

Then Mrs. Jones looks up at the blue sky, and says :

“ I see some white sheep now.”

Lizzie looks up and says :

“ Are the white sheep clouds ?”

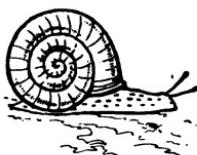

“ Yes. Now what is this :

I have a little sister;
Her name is Peep Peep :
She wades in the water,
Deep, deep, deep :
She climbs on the mountain,
High, high, high ;
But, O, my little sister
Has but one eye."

"I give that up," says George.
"Look up at the sky again."
"O, I see ; it's a star."
Then Lizzie and George and Hubert say :
"It is time for us to go home."
When they go, Alice says :
"Good night ;
Sleep tight ;
Wake up bright
With the morning light,
To do what's right
With all your might."

MOTHER GOOSE

Mrs. Jones is reading out of Alice's picture book.

The name of the book is
MOTHER GOOSE.

It has many good rimes in it.
This is the book that Kate gave Alice on her birthday.

The children like MOTHER
GOOSE very much.

This is what Mrs. Jones reads :

If I'd as much money
As I could spend,
I never would cry :
 Old chairs to mend,
 Old chairs to mend,
 Old chairs to mend ;
I never would cry :
 Old chairs to mend.

I like little pussy ;
 Her coat is so warm ;
And if I don't hurt her,
 She'll do me no harm.
So I'll not pull her tail,
 Nor drive her away ;
But pussy and I
 Very gently will play.

When it rains children say :
Rain, rain, go away ;
Come again another day ;
Little Johnny wants to play.

If wishes were horses,
Beggars would ride ;
If turnips were watches,
I'd have one by my side.

The three children say :
“ That is a good one.”
“ I would have a little gold watch then,” says Kate.
“ So would I,” says Alice.
But Harry says :
“ I would have a little pony.
Now read about this rooster.”

Cock crows in the morn
To tell us to rise ;
And he who lies late
Will never be wise :
For early to bed,
And early to rise,
Is the way to be healthy
And wealthy and wise.

Then Mrs. Jones tells them :
“ Now it’s time for you little chickens to go to roost.”

But Harry begs her :
“ Please read just one more.”
“ Well, I will read this for Harry,” says his mother :

Eye winker,
Tom tinker,
Nose dropper,
Mouth eater,
Chin chopper,
Chin chopper.

While Mrs. Jones reads this, she puts her finger on Harry’s eyes and his mouth; and pulls his nose; and chucks him under the chin.
The girls clap hands, and say :
“ That is the best rime of all.”

A B C
ANIMALS

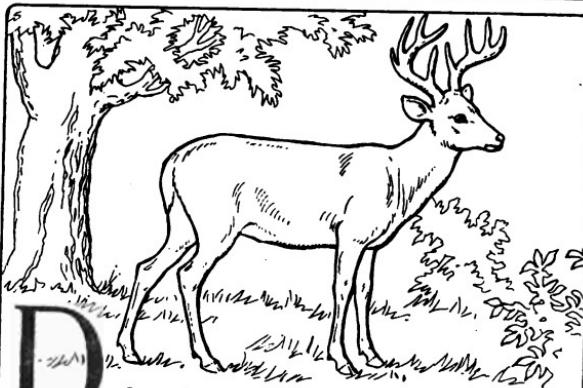

A is for ape;
Like a man he can walk;
He can chatter and grin,
But an ape can not talk.

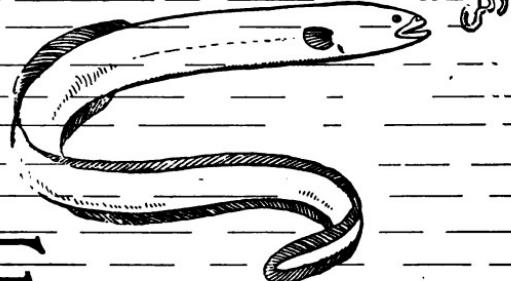

B is for buffalo,
Heavy and strong;
His horns are quite short,
But his mane's very long.

C is for civet,
A queer kind of cat;
A perfume is made
Of a part of his fat.

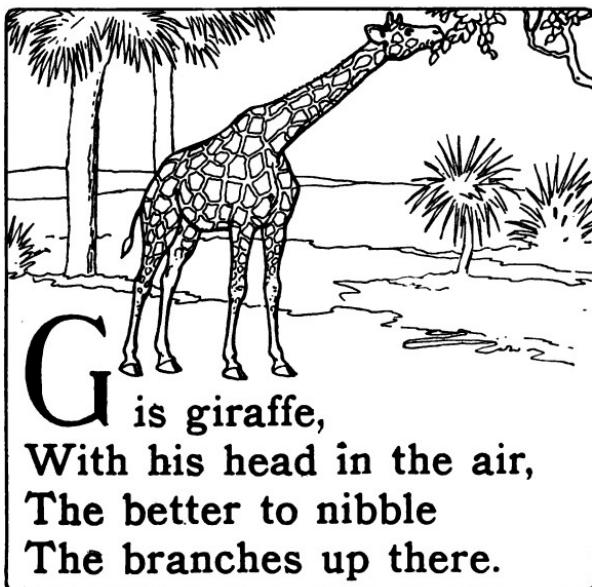

D is for deer;
His antlers wide spread
Look just like a tree
Growing out of his head.

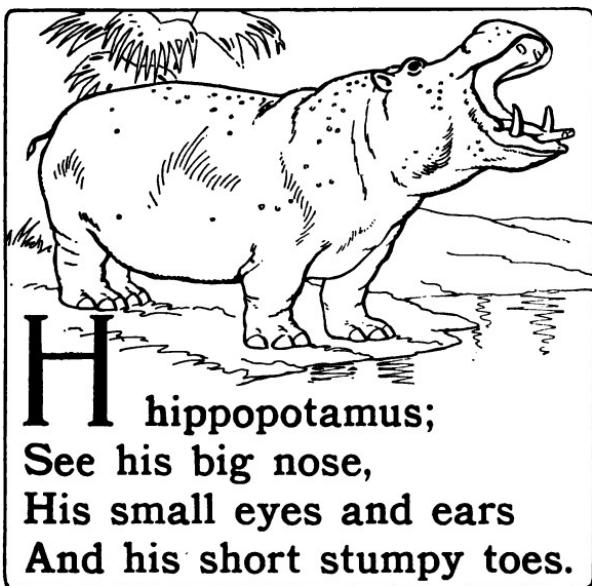

E is for eel;
It may look like a snake,
But in fact it's a fish
You can catch in the lake.

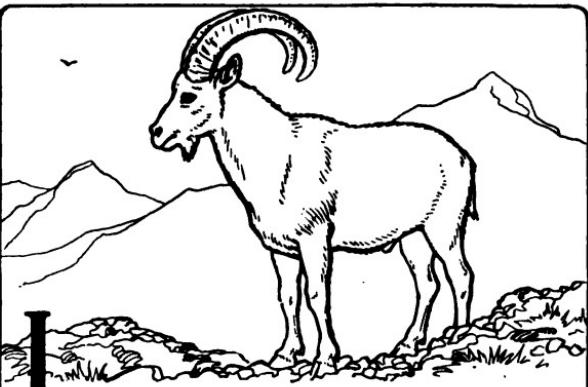

F is for fox,
So crafty and sly;
When he prowls around
The hens must roost high.

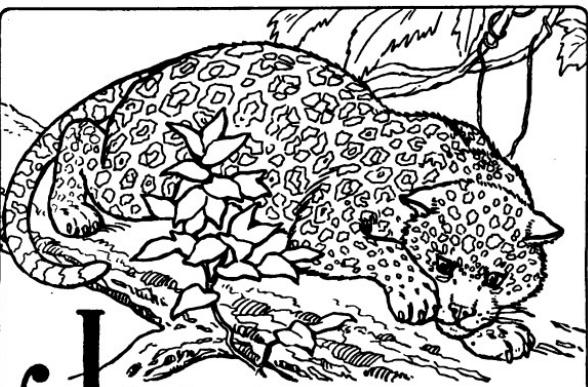

G is giraffe,
With his head in the air,
The better to nibble
The branches up there.

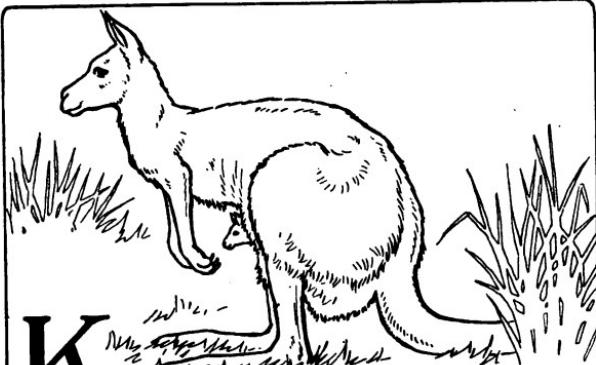

H hippopotamus;
See his big nose,
His small eyes and ears
And his short stumpy toes.

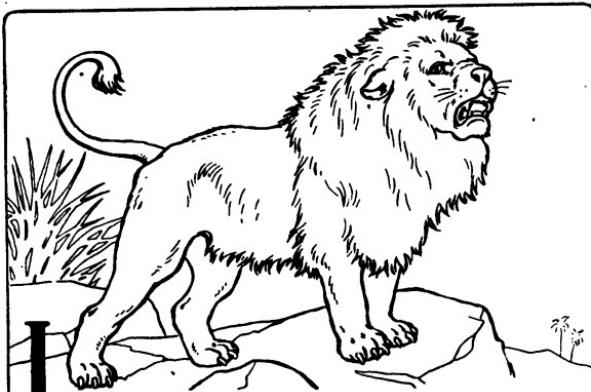

I is for ibex,
A wild mountain goat;
He has long curving horns,
And a beard on his throat.

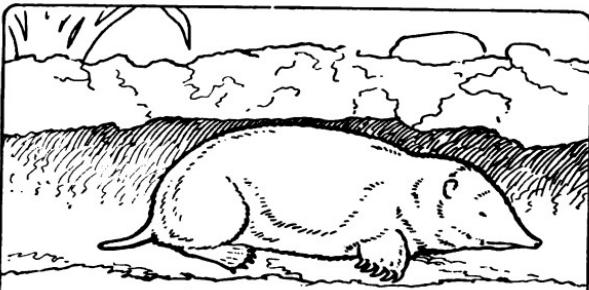

J is for jaguar,
Up on a limb,
To pounce upon creatures
That pass under him.

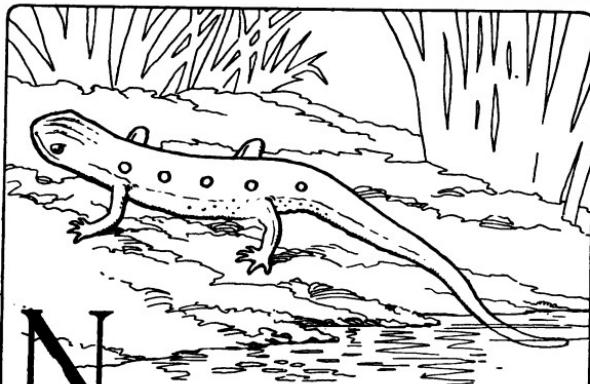

K kangaroo;
She swiftly can hop;
With her babe in her pouch,
She goes miles without stop.

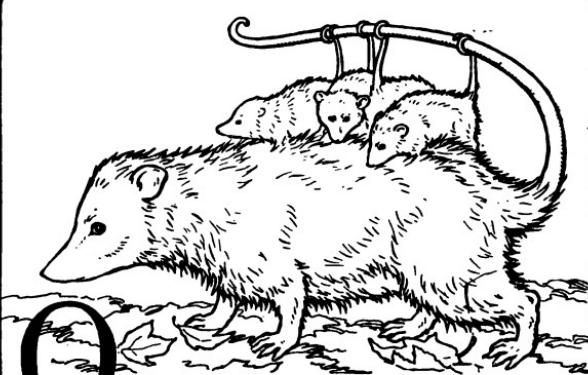

L is for lion;
He roars in the night,
And the beasts in the jungle
All tremble with fright.

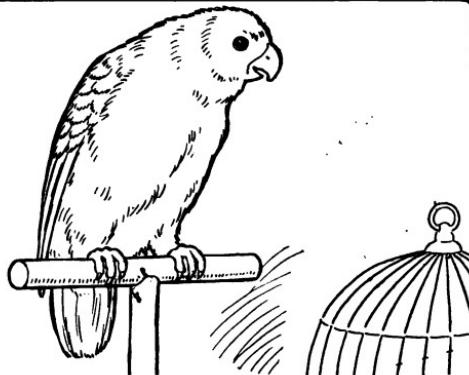

M is for mole,
With his eyes almost blind;
But he lives in the ground,
So the mole doesn't mind.

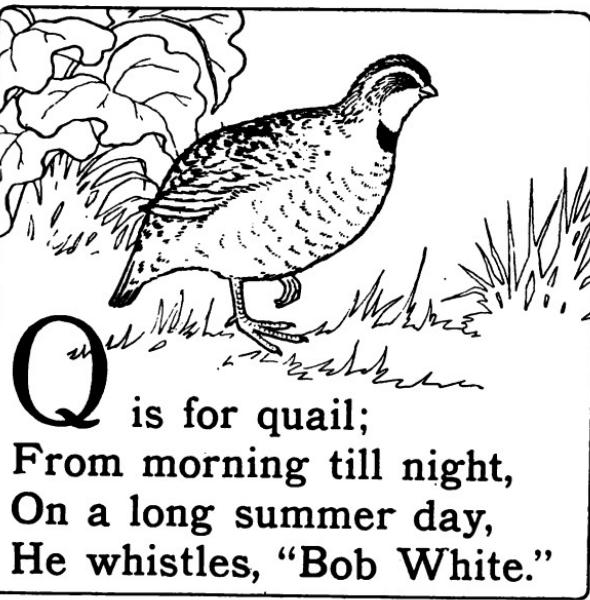

N is for newt,
Which came from the bog;
He looks like a lizard,
But lives like a frog.

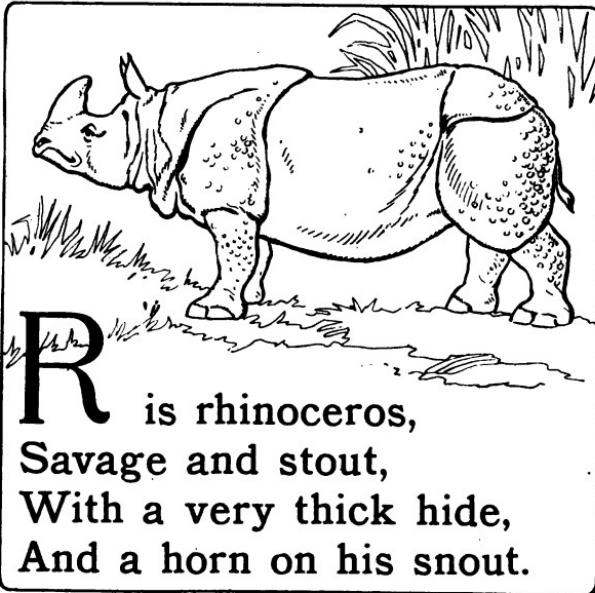

O is opossum;
When she has to pack,
She carries her family
Off on her back.

P is for parrot,
A pretty, green bird;
When she talks you would Think it a person you heard.

Q is for quail;
From morning till night,
On a long summer day,
He whistles, "Bob White."

R is rhinoceros,
Savage and stout,
With a very thick hide,
And a horn on his snout.

S is for seal,
From the land of the snow;
He can swim like a fish,
But he walks very slow.

T is for turtle,
Which has a hard shell;
He can live upon land,
And in water as well.

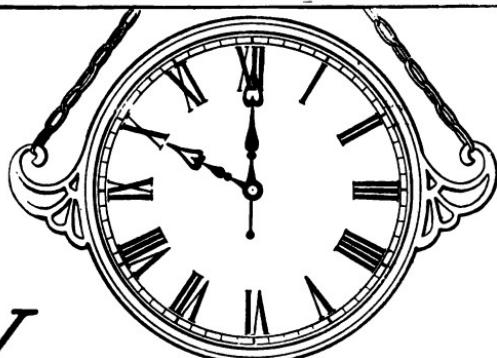

U is unau, or sloth;
Thro the tree tops he goes,
And hangs on the limbs
By his very long toes.

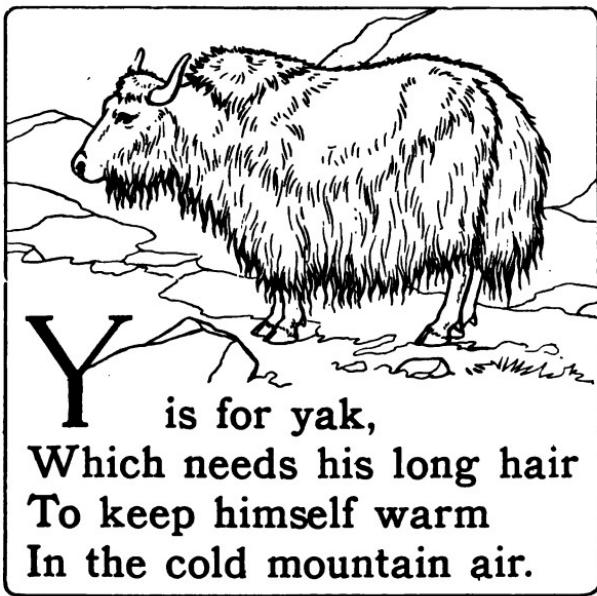

V is for vampire,
A very big bat;
Tho it flies like a bird,
It's a beast, for all that.

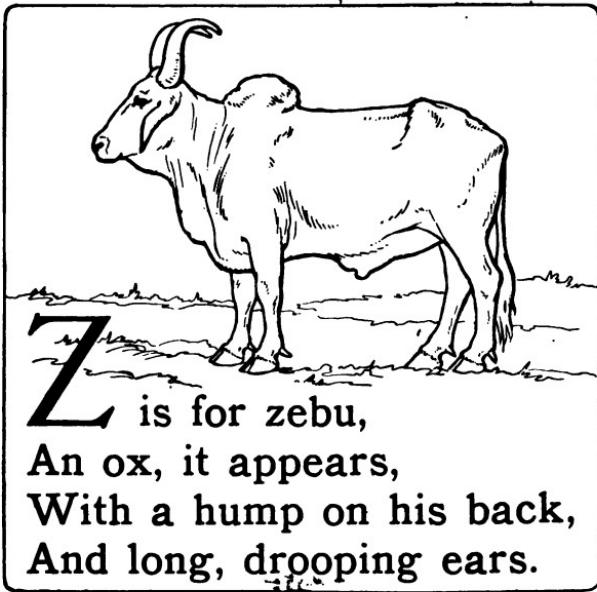

W is for weasel,
The foe of the rat;
To clean out these vermin
He beats any cat.

X stands for no word
That you know of, but when
You are counting, you some Times may write X for 10.

Y is for yak,
Which needs his long hair
To keep himself warm
In the cold mountain air.

Z is for zebu,
An ox, it appears,
With a hump on his back,
And long, drooping ears.
